

November 26, 2010

Mr. A.M. Naik Wins CNBC's Asia Business Leader Award

Yet another international dimension was added to Chairman & Managing Director, Mr. A.M. Naik's array of awards with the presentation of the prestigious 'Asia Business Leader Award' for 2010 by CNBC Asia. The award from the internationally reputed TV channel was presented to him at a glittering ceremony in Singapore yesterday.

The ceremony was hosted by CNBC's award-winning anchor, Ms. Maria Bartiromo, and was broadcast live globally – on CNBC Asia, CNBC Europe and CNBC US.

The Asia Business Leader Awards (ABLA) is regarded as the most prestigious business leadership award in the Asian continent. It recognises the business leader who makes his or her vision a reality for the company he heads – driving growth, success and profitability. Qualities including innovation, community service, management skills and the leader's ability to formulate strategies and capitalise on key trends are the key judging criteria.

ABLA Awards have distinguished and honoured Asian leaders who have contributed to and shaped the Asian economy. Recipients of the Awards are stellar individuals who play a pivotal role in today's outstanding businesses. They epitomise the core values of a successful leader – strength, innovation, ingenuity, knowledge and foresight – values that are imperative to carving out powerful businesses in the global economy. Typically, winners of the Awards exemplify the best in leadership.

Mr A.M. Naik, flanked by the programme host and other winners of the coveted award.

CNBC states that it pioneered the Asia Business Leaders Awards to salute remarkable business leaders for their continuing commitment to excellence, developing best practices and innovative strategies.

The jury for this year's Awards included business analysts and academicians from prestigious international business schools.