

L&T (Powai Unit) Bags EFI National Award - 'Excellence in Employee Relations'

Appreciating L&T's policies, systems and procedures that have helped to sustain continued improvements in operations resulting in industrial peace and harmony, the Mumbai-based Employers' Federation (EFI) of India has honoured L&T with its prestigious National Award for Strong Commitment to Employee Relations.

Mr. Ajit Singh, EVP - Corporate Infrastructure & Services, L&T, and his team accepted the award on behalf of L&T from the Chief Guest, Dr. J.J.

Irani, ex-Director, Tata Sons, and doyen of Indian industry, on October 21, 2011 at the EFI National HRM Summit held in Mumbai.

EFI was established in 1933, as an association of autonomous organisations of industry, with the purpose of protecting, promoting and championing the interests of employers mainly in the area of human resources, industrial relations, and labour problems.

EFI instituted the award from this year with a view to promote and foster excellence in employee relations. Several organisations from manufacturing and service sector contested for this award.
